This Camp offers writers in grades 4 - 8 an opportunity to explore many types of writing in a fun, interactive and encouraging setting. The number one complaint of authors at every level is, "I can't think of anything to write about!!" One of the main focuses for this camp will be investigating where writers get their ideas.

Each day, student authors will be introduced to different forms of writing and shown how to take their newly developed ideas to the written page for others to enjoy. Students will have opportunities to think creatively and apply the structures of worthy writing, including voice, sentence variation, character development and structure, to their pieces.

This camp will allow participants to grow as writers as they explore possibilities for showcasing their talents.

Two Sisters' Writing Camp

June 9 - June 12, 2015

St. Joseph School

Sylvania, Ohio
Educator Backgrounds

Anna-Marie Adamson has earned her Bachelor of Education degree from The University of Toledo and her Masters from Lourdes University in the field of education. She has 15 years of coaching and judging Power of the Pen writers, each year producing state qualifiers. Her intense coaching in this writing program has produced two published student authors in the 2008 and 2009 competitions. She has 19 years of junior high experience teaching all subjects. She is trained in nationally recognized writing programs including "Step Up to Writing", and "6 Traits Writing". The programs are assessment-driven frameworks for writing success. She is a member of the Toledo Area Council of the International Reading Association (TACIRA). Anna-Marie enjoys teaching writing skills to students who share her passion for writing. She looks forward to strengthening the writing skills of the participants in these workshops.

Suzanne Sutliff has worked in the field of education for the past 25 years. She has over 15 years of classroom experience, teaching all subjects in grades 2 through 5. Suzanne has also worked as a Literacy Consultant for the Columbus Public Schools, written educational grants and led teacher inservices as part of their Literacy Development Programs. In her current position as a classroom teacher for the Hilliard City School District, she has also joined fellow educators on several curriculum committees. Suzanne offers Writing Camps for passionate authors in the elementary grades and looks forward to working with students at St. Joe's this coming summer. She holds an undergraduate degree in music performance and a Masters in Literacy Education.
